

I am quite concerned about concentrating ownership of media outlets (of all types) in the hands of a few mega-corporations. Whether inadvertently or deliberately, this could result in bias to the coverage of information the public needs. A totally free press, one with diverse viewpoints and diverse ownership, is vital to a truly free society. This is one of the most important safeguards of the freedoms cherished by all Americans. It is far more important than any economic benefit due to efficiencies of scale. Please leave the current restrictions regarding ownership in place!
